P R E F A C E

A more interesting and attractive portrayal of life at Hampden-Sydney has been our aim in making up this volume of the 1937 "Kaleidoscope." • • •

Soon we are to separate along the paths of life, doubtless some of us never to meet again. Consequently the staff has endeavored to put in tangible form the transient occurrences and progress made during this collegiate year in order that each student may have a permanent and complete record of the passing joys and experiences of college life. • • •

Since the appearance of this book marks the closing of another scholastic year, it has been our aim further to build a memorial not only for the present but also for the future—one that will recall these pleasant memories, associations, and proud achievements of the students of Hampden-Sydney College. • • •

DEDICATION

Samuel P. Morton, Jr.

To a native of Prince Edward County, a historian of recognized attainments and a genealogist of national reputation, a late Superintendent of Public Instruction of Virginia who organized and rendered efficient the school system of the state, which he found in chaotic disorder; later President of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, which he developed wisely and well; reviver of Hampden-Sydney College and since 1919 its honored head; sympathetic friend of the students and always eager to promote their interests and those of the faculty; successful in securing valuable gifts, especially instrumental in the erection of "Morton Hall," so needed and so complete—to Dr. Joseph Dupuy Eggleston the "Kaleidoscope" staff affectionately dedicates this forty-third volume. * * * * *

And in this dedication the staff wishes to include also President Eggleston's friend, Mr. Samuel Packwood Morton, Jr., who, at the President's suggestion and with the laudable desire to perpetuate the memory of Captain John Morton, his colonial ancestor and one of the founders of our College, and thus to aid an institution where the development of Christian scholarship is emphasized, has by a magnificent gift made possible a classroom building for which all friends of Hampden-Sydney are grateful, a memorial worthy of ancestor and descendant. * * * * *

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1937

As we stand on the threshold of graduation, there is one question ringing in the ears of each member of the Class of '37—can these four years really be at an end? In the rush of last-minute preparations—in the midst of doing all the things that were meant to be done long ago, worried glances are cast into the uncertain future, and there is little time or inclination to take a backward look. However, while we are still in that “in-between region” where we find the problems of yesterday behind us and the hopes and dreams of tomorrow before us, it might be well to pause and survey for a moment the trail over which we have already traveled. Only by such a change in perspective can we laugh at what were one time thought to be tragedies; shake our heads at the foolish impulsiveness of undergraduate play; sense the value of many things we once held as worthless, and cast aside those valuable things which have proven to be trivialities.

It is difficult to say what we shall value most of the experiences that have gone by in the past months. Surely the memories will never fail us: that never-to-be-forgotten Freshman rebellion, the feelings of Sophomoric superiority, followed by a quiet settling down to study in the two remaining years. No less sharp are the pictures of individual feats and valor on the athletic field, in classroom, in activities of all types. The close associations with a faculty of high integrity, character, and scholarship, with a student body of high ideals of loyalty and comradeship—no sentimental drivel, this.

But aside from any particular event or association, we carry away with us a certain undefined feeling that we cannot describe, but we do know that here we have found something fine, something deep that we can keep always.

Many will tell us that we are now about to go out into the cold, cold world. But just as the creature of the field or forest in its metamorphosis changes from a lower stage in development to a higher, just so do we now emerge into a broader world, a fuller life. The changes we experienced when we first entered the gates of Hampden-Sydney were just as great as those we are about to experience. But it is all living. We are now strengthened by those associations and contacts that it has been our fortune to meet—from the time we entered college, “sounding off” with all our might, taking intelligence tests, cramming for exams, through football and baseball games, fraternity rushing, initiations, writing, reading, speaking, dances, parties—to the time when a long and solemn row of black-robed figures marches between the columns of College Church for perhaps the last time.

THIRTY - SEVEN

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1938

"And departing leave behind us, footprints on the sands of time." With Longfellow's gem ringing in his ears, Thirty-eight's Historian again picks up his pen to record the sandy footprints of his class. As haughty Juniors, we now look back on our Freshman days with no little amusement. Yet we have learned to count them among our happiest memories. How can we ever forget our first week on campus—carrying trunks, singing, laundry lists, "sounding off"—and then the first meeting of the dreaded V. C.! Before we could rightly recover from the above ordeals, we were enveloped in the fraternity rushing season, the end of which found 70 new pledge pins on 70 proud chests.

At our first meeting as a class we chose Bob Harper to lead us through the remainder of the year, to be assisted by Gene Caldwell and Bill Leftwich. Heedless to threats of "Campus" from indignant Sophs, three times did we adorn the familiar walks with our stately numerals. Mid-term exams proved our scholastic worth and the new term found a large percentage of thirty-eight men on the Dean's Lists. Not content, however, with scholastic triumphs, we invaded the athletic, literary, and social spheres with equal success.

Returning to "the hill" as Sophomores, we ruled the Freshmen with an iron hand, seeing to it that their impertinent numerals were duly erased with toothbrushes, soap, and other scrubbing implements. We paused in our disciplinary measures long enough to elect Herbert Webb as president, Day Edwards as vice-president, and re-elect Bill Leftwich secretary-treasurer. After the first week or two of Sophomoric self-importance, we settled down to months of activity that were destined to mark '38 as the life-blood of the campus. As the second semester rolled by, we pointed with pride to our athletes—such men as Burrell, Hyde, Richardson, and Pedigo on the gridiron; Basketballers Baylor, Kincaid, McCallion; Trackmen Fox, Hazelgrove, and Hudson; Beck on the diamond, and Leftwich and Richardson on the tennis courts. Other thirty-eighters, too numerous to mention, carried the ideals of our class into every phase of social, literary, and religious endeavor.

As we returned for our third year on the campus, new responsibilities were thrust upon us. Thirty-eighters were given positions of importance on the staffs of the three publications and were initiated into the scientific, forensic, and literary fraternities. Spencer, Stone, and Webb were elected to permanent seats on the Student Council, with Webb again being chosen to lead us through another year. With mid-term exams over, we witnessed the desertion of McIlwaine in favor of Morton with due ceremony and sentimental reminiscing. The spring, with its proverbial "budding trees and singing birds," saw us entering many different fields of activity, and it also saw Thirty-eighters Stone and Lindsey pilot the Glee Club through a successful season.

As we stand at the threshold of our Senior year, each is set toward a different goal, but I rest assured that the same determination which has characterized our three years together will carry us to the summit of achievement.

WILLIAM A. CARRINGTON, Historian.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1939

Tempus fugit.

Long since has winter relaxed its tenacious grip. Spring has come, and summer is not far behind. Two scant years have passed away since we of the Class of '39 received our baptism of Sophomore fire on that fated Friday, the thirteenth of September. In a brief two more our cherished days will end—but, stay! lest we haste the years, now all too fleet.

Decreased in numbers, but multiplied by superiority, we gathered early in September to instruct our charges in the lowliness of Freshman obeisance. Their response was practically instantaneous and startling, to say the least. Much to the glee of those concerned (and also of a great many not concerned) sedition was widespread and rampant rebellion flared. Under the dictatorship of a gigantic Frosh, who boasted no less than a half dozen right-hand men, the Class of '40 convened in Death Valley 'neath the hush of the night and belligerently aired their pretensions to justice, right, freedom, and equality. Their flame of hope, however, was short-lived, and, after a hectic night of intermittent clashes, they retired to their only refuge, beneath the thumb of the Class of '39.

There followed a week of flurried, impromptu Freshman meetings and coldly calculating assemblies of Sophomores. The total result was discipline in the extreme and continuation of rat rules until Easter for the Freshmen, unsullied honor and a clean slate for the Sophomores—in a word, success.

Numerals appeared, as usual, by the dozens, each appearance followed by busy groups of scrubbing Frosh, countless moans and groans, and withering imprecations upon the heads of the Freshmen responsible. At one time, indeed, black '40's appeared in such profusion and in such secluded spots that more than a week was required to return the campus to its seemly appearance. Some were even so rash and reckless as to efface the feted figures of our class.

With the coming of Christmas strife and disorder ceased. Returning, satisfied with happy holidays, we began to study assiduously for our coming exams. These trials, coupled with abominable weather, accomplished the end of wearing us to a frazzle—this, even before spring fever had a chance to take effect! The monotony of classes was alleviated to a great extent by the removal, in the early part of February, of our recitations from McIlwaine Hall to our new Morton Hall.

Spring holidays fled apace, and the weeks slipped by till the sunshine erased all traces of winter, such as it had been. The pleasant days made us forget the storms of past months, but only until the turmoil of final exams made us forget the pleasant days.

The term is ended; another year has fled. Our turbulent Sophomore career nears its close. Our responsibilities, pleasures, anxieties, in the past such real actualities, now are memories and happy thoughts. The Sophomore, haughty tyrant, is dead! Long may he live!

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1940

As September eighth drew to a close, a few boys were seen straggling toward the Administration building. The Class of '40 was in the throes of matriculation. After this duty had been looked after, and we were all established, our goating days began. A few never-to-be-forgotten days and nights followed. Soon afterwards small but very distinguishable '40's were seen sprinkled around the highways and byways of the Hill. This aroused the great wrath of the ruling Class of '39, who promptly called a meeting in order to suppress the insurrection. If one was a stranger to the campus, he would probably wonder what so many tramps were doing walking around. Residents could very easily recognize these so-called tramps as Freshmen. As the rat cap boys thought this beneath their dignity, a revolt was soon in the making. In the calm and quiet of the night, the Freshmen gathered on the athletic field to discuss the situation. After much debating, we marched in a group to the different buildings where a general upheaval of the rooms took place. Following several days of an almost bloodless revolution, the Sophomores dealt the fatal blow—all Freshmen on rat rules until Easter. This was the so-called last straw, but as there was nothing that we could do, we were compelled to accept the decision.

During the football season there were many outstanding Freshman players. Although not used to working together, they compiled a very convincing record.

On December ninth the Freshman elections were held, and the Freshmen chose as their officers: Dick Reid, president; Tom Crume, vice-president; and Bennett Barnes, secretary-treasurer.

Closely following on the heels of the election came the long-awaited Christmas vacation. This was greatly appreciated by all, partly because we all knew that there was no V. C. at home.

An expected experience greeted us on our arrival back at Hampden-Sydney. Exams! These were a new thrill and were only weathered after much difficulty.

Although infrequent V. C. meetings were held, Easter soon arrived, and with it our long-looked-for abandonment of the rat rules.

With our return to the rejuvenated campus, outside of a little work for the athletic managers, our goating days were over. These days are ones that we'll never forget and always cherish.

BOB BOYD, Historian.

The Editorial Staff of the 1937 KALEIDOSCOPE presents this volume to you. We have endeavored to include a series of innovations, such as increased color and art work and the addition of more pages of snapshots, in order to more actively portray campus scenes—all for your enjoyment and appreciation.

The staff has attempted to give you a book differing from the established form, and possessing a certain amount of originality. This volume represents the result of many hours of careful preparation and compilation of facts and if in the future it may help to recall tender memories of college life at Hampden-Sydney, our efforts will not have been in vain.

The Business Staff of this year's KALEIDOSCOPE has worked diligently in securing advertisements, in order that there might be increased finances to take care of the large amount of color work included this year. The result of the Staff's work is shown in our annual, and one cannot look at it without realizing that hard work and good salesmanship has been exerted.

The main object of this staff is to keep the book within its budget. We have done our duty and deserving credit should go not only to our staff but also to the Editorial Staff and to the firms who have helped out with their advertisements.

The 1936-37 Tiger published its seventeenth volume, upholding the publication's high standard as an organ of student expression; continued its membership in the Associated Press and the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association; and carried out an aggressive and constructive editorial policy free from any censorship. It trained its writers and livened the staff meetings by frequent lectures in journalism. At the opening of Morton Hall the 1936-37 staff issued the largest edition of The Tiger ever published.

New office equipment was added to the permanent property of the paper, and more efficiency came about with the acquisition of a new editorial office.

The largest single job undertaken by the 1936-37 Tiger business staff was the financing and distributing of an eight-page issue on February 15. The success which resulted was the highlight of the year. The efficient manner in which this issue was circulated is significant of the business staff's ability.

The securing of an office in McIlwaine Hall meant a great deal to the business staff, in that a much better working arrangement was made possible. Starting from the bottom at the beginning of school, the business staff has put the Tiger on a sound financial footing.

The Magazine continued this year in its policy of being a literary and not a joke magazine. Pressure was brought to bear from some of the students and also outside sources to change the type of magazine, but this was disregarded.

The Hampden-Sydney Magazine is one of the oldest college literary magazines in the country, and it should be continued as such. It was founded in 1859 by the Combined Union and Philanthropic Literary Societies, and has continued on down to the present with the exception of several years during and following the Civil War. Let us hope that its policy may remain unchanged.

Again increasing its budget and advertising range the 1936-'37 Magazine reached a higher mark in the "blue" than ever before, due to the untiring efforts and enthusiasm of the staff to make it a success. An unusually large number of local advertisements and the largest amount of national advertising ever to grace the pages of the Magazine were the fruits of their hard labor.

Large circulation and prompt distribution after publication were accomplished by this staff. The advertisers in the Magazine deserve a patronage of the entire student body as their business with us is most important in publishing the Magazine.

The Hampden-Sydney Press Club originated in the fall of 1935 through the efforts of Coach C. A. Bernier, Dean George L. Walker, and Professor D. R. Reveley. Since its inception this organization has done a successful piece of work in coordinating the publicity efforts of the college. Senior members are elected each Spring, and the above three seniors were elected for the year 1936-'37 to keep their Alma Mater in the news. The work of this group has been highly complimented by the Associated Press, who attributed to its activity a uniformity and consistency in news from the college that was decidedly absent before its formation. It has the distinction of being the first organization of its kind in the state, and offers students here a unique opportunity in applied journalism. Each year, in June, the three senior members of the Press Club are awarded gold keys as a token of appreciation for their services rendered to the college.

ON the following pages are shown the Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of two representatives from each of the seven social fraternities, which follow it in order. Fraternities have existed at Hampden-Sydney approximately seventy-five years and throughout this long period fraternity life has continued to be a heritage which each succeeding class has learned to cherish. Our social brotherhoods contribute much to the enjoyment of the years spent at college and each year they sponsor a number of dance sets, not only for their members alone, but for non-fraternity men also. In addition there are now five national honorary fraternities which recognize ability in the different fields of activity on the campus, and there are three ribbon societies which tend to promote a friendly spirit among the groups.

THE Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded at Miami University in 1855, and Sigma Sigma Chapter was issued its charter in 1872. This Chapter became inactive however in 1902, but due to an increase in the small student enrollment was revived in 1931. The magazine is the Magazine of Sigma Chi, and the secret organ is the Sigma Chi Bulletin. The colors are blue and old gold, and the white rose is the fraternity flower.

THE Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity was organized at the University of Virginia in 1868. Iota Chapter, which made its appearance on this campus in 1885, was host four years later for the fraternity reorganization. Their magazine is The Shield and Diamond and their secret organ is the Dagger and Key. The fraternity colors are garnet and old gold, and its flower is the lily-of-the-valley.

THE Theta Chi Fraternity was established at Norwich University in 1856. However, it was not until around sixty years later that this fraternity instigated its Nu Chapter on the Hampden-Sydney campus—1914. This chapter built the first fraternity house to occupy the right-hand side of fraternity row. The Rattle is the official organ and the red carnation is the fraternity flower.

lead, regardless of the brilliant playing of Harshbarger, McCann, and Buchinsky.

Hampden-Sydney, 6; Apprentice School, 12

On October 2, the Tigers journeyed to Newport News to play Apprentice School in a night game. Expecting to win easily, the Tigers were surprised when the Shipbuilders made such a strong attack as to gain two touchdowns. The Garnet and Grey scored first when Bernier crashed over from the one-yard line in the second quarter. Although the Tigers outplayed their opponents, they were not strong enough to score again, and the fine showing made by Steed and Bernier could not change the score from a 12-6 loss.

Hampden-Sydney, 0; Catawba, 13

A strong Catawba eleven invaded Death Valley the next week-end for Hampden-Sydney's first home game of the season. Although the Tigers were forecast to win this game, they were only able to hold the Cats scoreless in the first half. The team, weakened by the loss of half of its regulars from injuries, was unable to stop the more powerful opponent in the last half. The Carolinians took one touchdown by hard driving and the other by a run. Spencer and Bernier stopped any further scoring by their fine playing.

The 1936 football season was one of upsets for Hampden-Sydney. Games expected to be won were lost and vice versa. The result column showed three victories, five defeats, and a scoreless tie. Coach Bernier's invitation brought thirty-one men out to early practice. They were: Captain Ward Harshbarger, John Frank Chambers, Harold "Limp" White, Charles Bernier, Jordan "Henry" Steed, Carroll McCann, John Richardson, Bob Kincaid, Jack Pedigo, James Armistead, Clarence Thompson, Dick Burrell, John Kincaid, Frank Hyde, John Hall, Luke McCallion, Herbert Webb, Albert "Buck" Buchinsky, Willard Craft, Tom Leigh, Don Farnsworth, Dave McCallion, Morton Miller, Taylor Reveley, Charles Spencer, Jack Dodge, James Younce, and Randolph Tribble.

Hampden-Sydney, 10; University of Virginia, 26

On September 26, the Hampden-Sydney gridmen went to Charlottesville for their initial game of the season. The game was a grueling one, since it was played under a broiling sun. The contest was not five minutes old before White, who was honored in 1935 by All American mention, kicked a twenty-five yard field goal for the Tigers. A few minutes later he raced off-tackle to score again for the Tigers. Until now Hampden-Sydney had lead the 10-7 score, but the story of the second half was different. The Cavaliers returned to overwhelm their opponents with three touchdowns. Virginia held its

Hampden-Sydney, 14; Swarthmore, 6

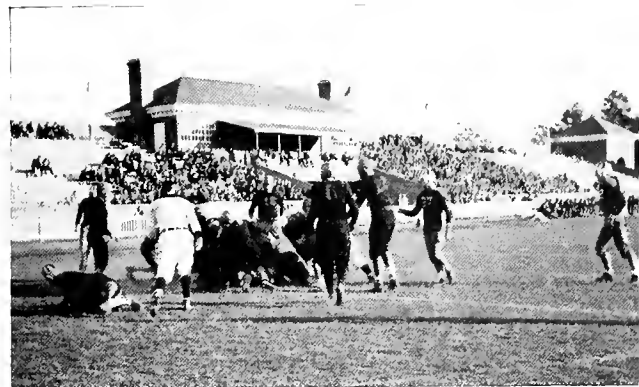

After losing three games in succession, the Tigers encountered their first victory of the season over Swarthmore. For the past two years the teams had fought on muddy fields, the Tigers winning both times. This game was no exception. White scored a safety in the second quarter by blocking a Quaker's punt behind their goal. Richardson made two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, both times through the line. A Swarthmore back ran the ball across the Tiger goal line after a ninety-yard dash for their only score.

Hampden-Sydney, 19; William and Mary 0

After two weeks of rest and practice the Death Valley eleven invaded the Colonial Capitol to oppose a favorite William and Mary team. The Tigers took the lead in the first few minutes of play when White ran from the Indians' forty-five-yard line for a touchdown. Richardson went over tackle at the beginning of the second quarter for a second Tiger goal. Hyde stopped a threatened Indian score by recovering a fumble on the Tiger fifteen-yard line. Later Richardson made the third Tiger score. The Indians were several times in scoring position, but weren't able to make good their threats. The Tigers showed better teamwork in this game than in any others the rest of the season. Steed and Bernier did much toward earning the 19-0 score which stood at the final whistle.

Hampden-Sydney, 0; St. Johns, 0

Pep rallies, a roaring bonfire, garnet and grey colors, and many returning alumni marked the homecoming celebration on November 7, when the Tigers met St. Johns in Death Valley. A large crowd turned out to see one of the most bitterly contested games of the season. Outplaying the Johnnies through the entire game, the Tigers lacked the punch that was needed to put the ball over. Bernier's passes and the running of Spencer, White, and Hyde made yardage at will. The Garnet and Gray rooters rose from their seats and cheered lustily in the second half when a Tiger score seemed certain. This and other marches were stopped all too soon.

Hampden-Sydney, 3; University of Richmond, 14

The Freshmen's "On to Richmond" had brought the student body to a high pitch by November 14. In the opening quarter of the game with the University of Richmond, White kicked a field goal from the Spider fourteen-yard line. The Spiders made two touchdowns in the second quarter to upset Hampden-Sydney's early lead, and a number of intercepted passes made the game more interesting. The most outstanding were White, Chambers, and Bernier, but even they were unable to overcome the great lead of their opponents. Neither team scored in the last half, and Richmond won with a 14-3 score.

Hampden-Sydney, 7; Randolph-Macon, 21

The 1936 edition of the ancient rivalry between Hampden-Sydney and Randolph-Macon took place on Cameron Field in Petersburg on November 21. The teams suffered from heavy penalties through the game, but the Tigers were harder hit. The Jackets took a seven-point lead in the first quarter after carrying the ball over from the Tiger's thirteen-yard line. The Tigers made constant threats throughout the first half with the aid of Spencer, Richardson, and Hyde. Randolph-Macon brought her total up to twenty-one points in the third quarter. Farnsworth made the lone Tiger score of the game after a long run by Richardson. Carroll McCann showed his home town that Hampden-Sydney had a really good center.

A deadly encounter on Death Valley against Catawba

Hampden-Sydney, 26; American University, 6

The Tigers ended their season in a blaze of glory by swamping American University 26-0 in a Thanksgiving Day clash at Farmville. Trailing 6-0 at the half, Hampden-Sydney returned to open up a strong attack which was too much for the American University team to withstand. The line opened holes through which Spencer, White, Hyde, and Richardson plunged for large gains. Bernier's passes accounted for one touchdown and helped pave the way for several more.

Hampden-Sydney bids farewell with pride and regret to Captain Ward Harshbarger, Harold White, Charlie Bernier, Jordan Stead, John Frank Chambers, John Hall, Carroll McCann, and James Younce. May their spirit enlighten the spirit of those who will take their places.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL RESUME

Thirty-three candidates for the Freshman football squad started practice the second week in September under the direction of Coach A. K. "Dickie" Dudley. The squad was divided into two teams consisting of the most capable players in the A team and the less experienced in the B team.

On September 26 the A team journeyed to Lynchburg, where they were defeated by Glass High 13 to 0. The Tigers were unable to break up their opponents' passes, who were also better organized. The preceding day the B team had been defeated by Hopewell High in Hopewell to the tune of 27 to 0.

The next Friday the Tiger Cubs encountered the Naval Base Tars at Norfolk. The little Tigers made more first downs and completed more passes than their opponents, but were unable to score. Henry Flannagan advanced the ball to the Sailors' goal line in the last few minutes of the game, but was stopped by the time-keeper's whistle, the final score being 0 to 0. In Waynesboro on October 10, the Bengals were defeated by Fishburne Military Academy by six points, which they obtained in the last few minutes of the game. The Freshmen advanced to the Cadet's three-yard line in the third quarter, but ran into stiff opposition. Richards, Goddin, Barnes, and Jamison played well for Hampden-Sydney.

The next week-end the Baby Bengals were unable to score against a strong Fork Union team while it piled up 39 points. In the first quarter Null returned a punt for a touchdown, but unfortunately the play was called back. Again in the third quarter Davies returned a kick-off to Fork Union's fifteen-yard line. On the preceding day, the B team defeated Farmville High 6 to 0 on a muddy field.

A. K. DUDLEY
Freshman Coach

CLARENCE LACY
Manager

The Tigers were victorious the following week-end by defeating the McGuire School eleven, 28 to 6, at Death Valley. The Hampden-Sydney team showed much power and rare form in this game. Outstanding for Hampden-Sydney were Williams, Walden, Johnson, Goddin, Eason, Flannagan, and Null.

Tiger met Tiger when the Baby Bengals traveled to Chatham October 30 to win from the Hargrave Cadets by a score of 13 to 0. Walden, Johnson, and Null played well for the Freshmen. The same week-end the B squad defeated the Fork Union B team 20 to 7. They also defeated Victoria High the next week by a score of 12 to 0.

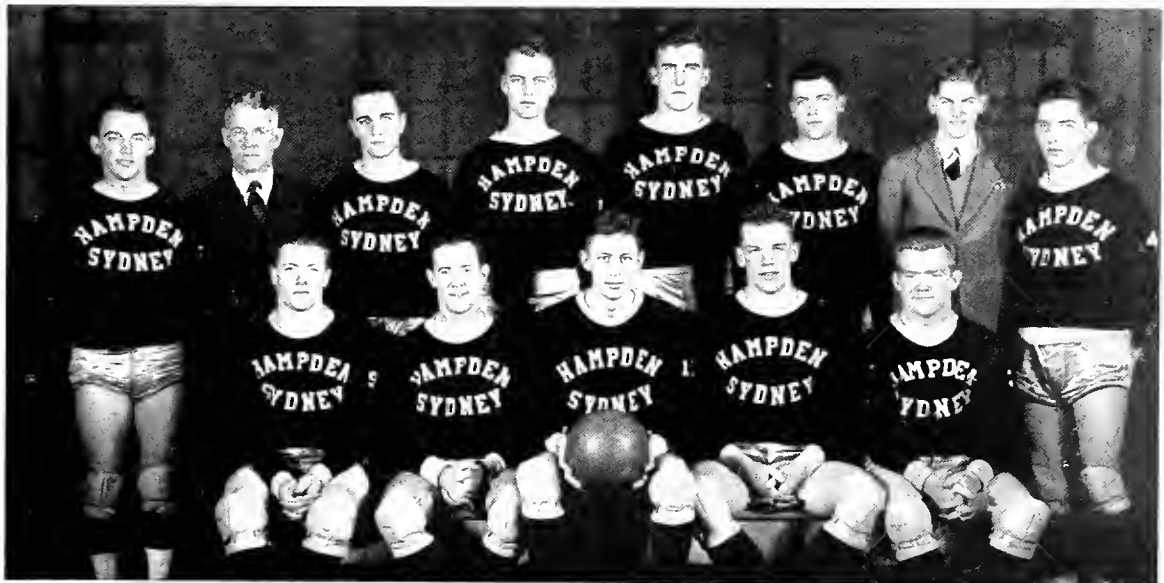

The Baby Bengals started off Homecoming week-end by playing a light but scrappy team from the Masonic Home. The Freshmen outplayed their opponents but were unable to cross their goal line. The game ended 0 to 0. Null's running and Soyars' tackling featured the game.

The Freshmen closed the season by scoring in every quarter and defeating Randolph-Macon Academy 31 to 0. Trick plays netted two of the five touchdowns. Null, Walden, and Dunnington starred for the Tigers.

THE SEASON ON THE COURT

Seven lettermen and several other promising players reported for basketball practice early last December. The Tigers were facing a very difficult schedule for 1936-'37 and the absence of the three ace performers of the previous season, Dave Rice, a guard, and Bill Formwalt and Birch Douglass, forwards, was conspicuous. However Coach Bernier's task of replacing these men was far from impossible. Captain Ebel was ready for his third year as varsity center. Bernier, Craft, and Kincaid had all seen varsity service, and so the chances looked good for a successful season.

The Tigers started their campaign with victories in two practice games on December 3 and 4. The victims were Union Theological Seminary by a score of 45-19 and Petersburg Y. M. C. A. by a score of 50-21. The home team looked good for having had only a few days practice. With the exception of Craft, who played with a slightly injured foot, the players were in excellent condition.

The Tiger cagemen journeyed to Richmond for their first real contest of the season, and met defeat at the hands of the very strong Spider five. The game was fast and interesting and much closer than the score, 45-29, indicated. Bob Kincaid was high scorer and outstanding player for Hampden-Sydney.

The team next departed on a Northern trip which included games with American University, University of Delaware, Haverford, Swarthmore, and Long Island University. These were the hardest games on the schedule and although the boys played some fine basketball, they won only one of the five. However, this is not a bad record when one considers the strain of the trip and the ability of the opposing teams.

The first game was in Washington, where the Garnet and Gray defeated American University 41-25. The first half was close, but in the second the Tigers started clicking and quickly put the game on ice.

The Berniermen proceeded to Newark, where they met defeat for the first time on the trip. The University of Delaware team was victorious by a 32-21 margin. The game was played on a very small floor, and the deciding factor was the home team's superior ability at foul shooting. Continuing on to Philadelphia, which was to be the scene of two games, the team met Haverford on the first night. This was the closest and most exciting game of the trip. The lead changed hands many times and it was either team's game up to the final minute of play. The end of the first half found Haverford slightly in the lead as a result of a goal scored as the whistle was blowing. The Tigers regained the lead in the second period and were ahead 28-27 with one minute to play. A foul goal tied the score, and again Haverford sank a field goal as the whistle sounded ending the game with the Tigers trailing 30-28.

On the following night Swarthmore furnished the opposition for the second game in Philadelphia. The Quakers, avenging their defeat on the gridiron last fall, handed the Tigers their worst trouncing of the season, 48-23. The game was played in Swarthmore's new $150,000 field house, which is one of the finest of its kind in the country.

In Brooklyn the Garnet and Gray encountered the powerful Long Island University five in the final game of the trip. Although the Tigers lost by a score of 64-41, those who saw the game say it was the best brand of basketball played by any Hampden-Sydney team in many years. The Long Islanders were undefeated in their last forty contests against some of the finest teams in the country. In losing, the Berniermen piled up a larger score than any team Long Island had played up to this point in the season. After a slow start the Tigers pulled up in the second period to within six points of their powerful opponents. Craft, Kincaid, and Ebel, in that order, were the high scorers for the trip.

The first game following the Christmas holidays was a return engagement with American University played on the local floor. The Tigers were sadly off form and lost to their smaller opponents 30-26. The local boys led 16-14 at half-time, but were unable to maintain their lead.

Next the Tigers went to Charlottesville, where they lost to the Cavaliers 37-29. The bright spot from the Hampden-Sydney viewpoint was the performance turned in by Bob Kincaid. He was high scorer for the game with 14 points.

The Garnet and Gray invaded Bridgewater next day and returned to the win column by turning back the Eagles 44-34. The Tigers quickly pulled ahead and never relinquished the lead. Kincaid with 18 points and Craft with 11 points played their usual outstanding games.

Exams followed this game, and the Tigers met the Medical College of Virginia after an interval of several weeks. Although hindered by lack of practice during this period, the home team won 26-24. Coach Bernier sent in his second team when the first string failed to click. The lead exchanged hands several times and the Medicos were four points ahead near the end of the game, only to see the Tiger regulars forge ahead. Steel and Craft with 8 points each were the Hampden-Sydney high scorers.

At Ashland the Tiger quintet suffered a defeat in its first game with Randolph-Macon by a score of 42-34. The Tigers scored 15 field goals to 12 for the Jackets. However, they made only 4 out of 8 foul shots, while their opponents were making 18 out of 25. This was the deciding factor. Coach Bernier substituted frequently, and all but one of his men scored more than one point.

The next night the Bengals lost their return game with the Medical College of Virginia 33-30, after having won the initial contest a week previous. The Medicos rallied in the last minute of play when Doyle scored the winning points. The Tiger five returned to the campus and defeated Bridgewater 37-31. The first half ended with substitutes in the game and the Garnet and Gray out in front by the lopsided score of 24-8. However, the Eagles came back strong in the second half with some spectacular shooting to make the game interesting. Captain Ebel led his teammates in scoring.

The second Hampden-Sydney-Richmond contest was the fastest and most exciting basketball game seen on the local floor in many years. The Tigers lost 38-34 before a capacity crowd. The Bernermen started the scoring and maintained their lead up until about the last four minutes of play, when their defense weakened, and the Spiders scored the deciding points. The Garnet and Gray exhibited almost flawless passing and teamwork throughout most of the game. Bobby Kincaid played his finest game of the season. With 16 points he was high scorer for the night. The Bengals upset Lynchburg College 43-28 in another home game. This was perhaps the best all around exhibition of basketball of the entire season. Passing was very fast and plays clicked with machine-like accuracy and smoothness. Each team lost three men on fouls. Cratt ran wild to score 23 points.

The Randolph-Macon quintet was played in the last game of the season on the home court. The result was a heartbreaking defeat for the Tigers by the margin of a single point, 32-31. The game was hotly contested throughout, with neither team ever holding a very decided advantage. The Tigers' play was a little ragged at points in the first half, but, as a whole, was good. Bruce Spencer's defensive play was a feature of the game.

For the final game of the season the Tigers journeyed to Lynchburg, where they lost to Lynchburg College 33-26, evening the series with the Hornets. Bernier, Steed, and Ebel played their last basketball game for the Garnet and Gray that night.

THE 1936 BASEBALL SEASON

The 1936 Tiger baseball season started out with a promising team, but a difficult schedule to encounter. Captain Birch Douglass, Alternate-Captain Dallas Ogden, Mayes, Bruce Spencer, Eason, Thacker, Bernier, Moss, Fornwalt, Rue, Farrar, and Beck returned from last year's squad, and new men included Charlie Spencer, Reveley, Becker, Buchinsky, Miller, Redd, and others.

On March 30, the Tigers opened their season by defeating Union Theological Seminary at Death Valley. The home team made 13 runs to the visitors' "goose egg," and Coach Bernier was able to run in numerous substitutes. The second straight victory was won over the University of Delaware on April 2 by a score of 5 to 4. The following day the Dartmouth nine defeated the Tigers by a score of 7 to 5, although they were leading until the seventh inning. Dallas Ogden chalked up the home run of the day. The Tigers won their third victory of the week in defeating Haverford by a score of 8 to 2.

The next two games were with Bridgewater College on April 15 and 16th, and resulted in a tie. The Tigers made three runs in the ninth inning, therefore, winning the first game by a score of 9 to 8. However, the Eagles gained revenge the following day by chalking up 10 runs to their opponent's 5.

Traveling to Randolph-Macon College for their first game away from home, the Tiger nine lost both games by a 9 to 3 and 15 to 6 score. Although Captain Douglass' team did not make a good showing, he did his best to win and was able to make a home run both days.

In the second series of the season with Bridgewater, on their own field, April 24 and 25th, the Death Valley nine were swamped by the scores of 18 to 3 and 18 to 4 in the respective games. At the University of Virginia the following Monday, the Cavaliers, taking advantage of Tiger errors, defeated them 10 to 2. The next day the Bengal nine were taken by William and Mary on their own field, 15 to 10. The third game of the week was won over the Medical College of Virginia. Reveley outpitched the Medico's hurler and Douglass knocked a home run.

The Tigers upset an undefeated Randolph-Macon team in their first game of a second series of the season at Death Valley. Behind the pitching of Eason and hitting of Douglass, Charlie Spencer, Bruce Spencer, and Rue, who made a homer in the first inning with two men on base, the Tigers were able to chalk up 10 runs to their opponents 5. However, the second game was lost to the Jackets by a score of 11 to 9.

Heading north on May 5, the Tigers took Delaware, 5 to 1, and played an errorless game, which included a home run by Douglass. The Tigers won the next game easily by making 17 runs to Swarthmore's 2. Leading by a 7 to 1 score in the seventh inning of the third game of the northern series, the Tigers succumbed to a fierce hitting attack by Rutgers, who scored three runs in the ninth inning to win the game 8 to 7. On the same trip, Haverford yielded to the second defeat of the season by the Tigers. The final score of 9 to 5 was aided by White and Douglass, each making a home run.

Returning to Death Valley, the Tigers ended the season with a duet of defeats by Emory and Henry on May 14 and 15th. The defeats were largely due to the Wasp moundsmen, who displayed brilliant work. The highlights of the Tiger play were two double plays reeled off very swiftly by Buchinsky, Bruce Spencer, and Douglass.

PROSPECTUS

The Hampden-Sydney baseball team lost heavily from last year's squad from that which we all have to face "Graduation". When the call was sounded for this year's baseball candidates we found to our sorrow that we had lost such valuable players as Douglass, Bernier, Maves, Formwalt, Moss, the Ogdens, and Becker. However, with such men as Bruce Spencer, Charlie Spencer, Tommy Redd, Buchinsky, Beck, Farrar, Thacker, Reveley, and our brilliant senior pitcher, Tommy Eason, we have a good nucleus for this year's squad. Along with freshmen like Williams, Johnson, Thompson, Davies, and Wade, who are out to win berths on the team, the squad shows promise of a successful season.

The season's opener was played in Death Valley against Drexel. Reveley and Eason pitched wonderful games and H. S. C. defeated the strong Drexel team by scores of 3-4 and 3-1. Captain Bruce Spencer, Tommy Redd, and "Red" Jones were the batting stars of the day.

After dropping two games to Long Island University and Dartmouth, Hampden-Sydney came back strong by winning a ten inning game against Delaware, 3-2. Thanks to a timely hit by Buchinsky and good support from the rest of the team, Tommy Eason won his second victory of the season.

A few days later Eason shut out Rutgers, 1-0. Farrar's timely hit in the ninth inning bringing in the only rally of the game. Four days later, in spite of the fine hitting of Redd, Eason lost a heart-breaker to Richmond, the strongest team in the state. Hampden-Sydney lost by a score of 4-3 in the tenth inning, owing to an untimely error.

The next week Hampden-Sydney won two free hitting contests from Lynchburg by scores of 20-4 and 12-10. Eason and Reveley were the winning pitchers. Most of Hampden-Sydney's batting punch was supplied by Charlie and Bruce Spencer and Tommy Redd.

Hampden-Sydney, in a double header with Randolph Macon, lost the first game, 6-3, but came back to win the second, 6-3. In the next game, a ten inning affair with the Medical College, Hampden-Sydney emerged victorious by a score of 6-3. Tommy Redd's beautiful bunt bringing in the winning run.

The next week, in two return games with Lynchburg College, the Berniermen came from behind to win in Lynchburg, 13-9 and 6-4, thus sweeping the Hornet series. Most of the remaining games will be played within the conference except for an extensive northern trip from May 2 to the 9th.

THE 1936 SEASON ON THE CINDER PATH

In their third win in as many starts, the H-S cindermen crushed Presbyterian College 86-31. Craft, H-S star, was injured in the high hurdles. Wood and Fox did good work in the high and broad jumps, while Montgomery and Hazelgrove shone in the longer runs, each taking firsts. For the first time in six years, a Tiger track team defeated Lynchburg College 77-55. Shepperson broke an eight-year record by doing the 220-yard dash in 22.2 seconds, and tied the record of 10 seconds for the 100-yard dash. Fox and Hazelgrove and Hoy were outstanding for the Tigers. In the Randolph-Macon meet, Formwalt hurled the javeline 169 feet, 6 1-2 inches to set a new school record. Through brilliant work by Fox, Shepperson, and Kincaid the final score was 65 1-2 to 60 1-2 in favor of Hampden-Sydney.

The Reveleymen climaxed a successful season by winning the Chesapeake Conference title at Lynchburg. The Tigers piled up 54 points with Randolph-Macon and Lynchburg collecting 43 and 38 points, respectively. Eight conference records were shattered in this meet.

TRACK RESUME

Despite gloomy predictions and numerous handicaps, the 1936 Tiger track team, in the first meet of the season, defeated the W. & M. Extension by the decisive score of 74-51. Big Will Craft was high score man with 21 points. Shepperson and Kincaid tied for second honors with ten points each.

The H-S trackmen defeated Guilford by the count of 83-53. The Reveleymen won eleven firsts in the shot, discus, and high hurdles. Hudson and Hazelgrove were outstanding in the longer runs.

P R O S P E C T U S

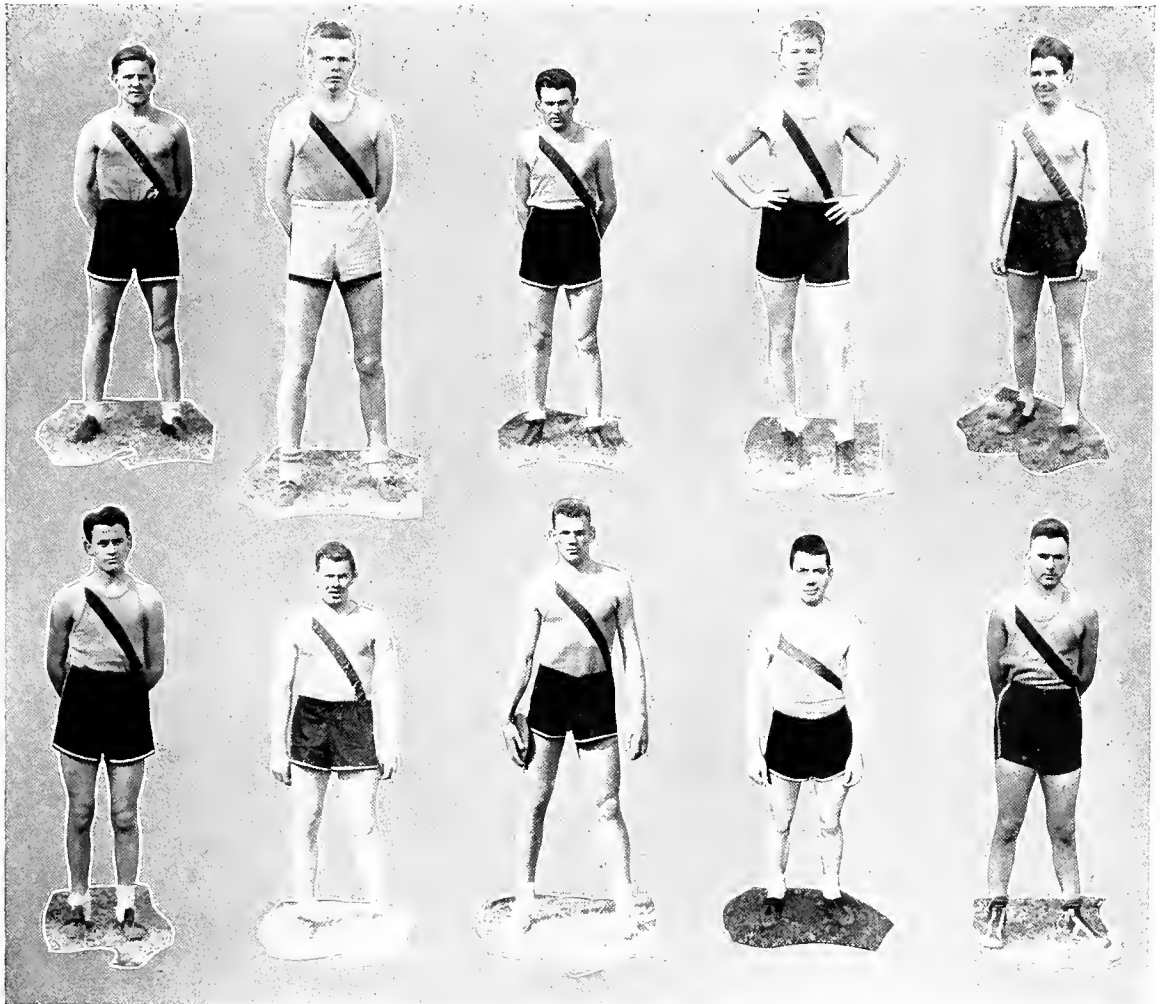

The Tiger track team appears to be on the road to victory this year with a strong squad of Sophomores and Juniors who are out to win or die for their Alma Mater. With Montgomery at their head as Captain, they should be the tops this year.

Will Craft, who is practically a one-man team in himself, stands as high point man. Bob Kincaid, Kenneth Hudson, Andrew Anderson, Flournoy Shepperson, Russel Fox, Pinckney Wood, Joseph Hazlegrove, and Captain Montgomery are the old letter men who are back this season. In addition to these, we have a strong Freshman squad who are out to win a place for themselves in the coming meets. Some of the most outstanding of these are Harry Null, Bobby Trice, John Gibson, Sid Walden, Tome Crume, Whitton Morse, Volney Campbell, and Bob Eason.

In the first track meet of the season with William and Mary, Craft was the high scorer, with Bob Kincaid and Flournoy Shepperson also outstanding, but the result was a 96 to defeat for Hampden Sydney. Malcolm Campbell, a junior out for track his first time, made a good showing in the 880.

In the triangular meet held at Guilford, Hampden Sydney won over Guilford and Catawba. Hampden Sydney, 77; Guilford, 36; Catawba, 24. In this meet Hampden-Sydney took eight first places and Will Craft broke the school record for the high hurdles.

What was supposed to be the toughest meet of the season turned out to be an easy victory for Hampden Sydney—our team defeated Wake Forest, 75 to 30. In this meet Will Craft broke the discus record and Flournoy Shepperson won a series of brilliant victories in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

In addition to these meets the "Tigers" will meet in the next few weeks several outstanding teams among which are Randolph-Macon and Lynchburg. With such a team we should make a good showing in the conference meet which is to be held at Lynchburg, May 13. This meet will wind up the season, with exams closely following.

WILLIAM R. WHITMAN, JR.
Captain

Due to bad weather conditions, which delayed the beginning of practice for several weeks, the 1936 Hampden-Sydney tennis schedule was both short and light as compared with those of the past. The schedule included ten matches, seven at home and three away. Six of these resulted in victories and only four in defeats. Captain "Dynamite" Richardson and Thompson, both seniors, were the only two letter men on the squad at the beginning of the season.

The 1936 KATHOSCOPE went to press after the team had completed the first two matches on its schedule. These had resulted in a 6-3 defeat at the hands of Lynchburg and an 8-1 victory over Randolph-Macon. Both matches were played on foreign courts.

The third match was a return meeting with the Randolph-Macon Jackets played on the local courts on April 23. The score was again 8-1 in favor of the Tigers. Van Alford, playing the sixth position, lost a close match. Bob Kincaid, Bob Richardson, Kirk, "Bony" Baylor, and freshman Hawkins turned in singles victories, and the locals also swept the doubles. On the next day, April 24, a match was played at home against a four-man team from Presbyterian College. This was not a regularly scheduled match and the Tigers had little trouble winning, 6-0.

The most interesting match of the season was the 5-4 victory over V. M. I. at Lexington on April 29. Each team gained three singles victories and the Hampden-Sydney boys clinched the match by winning two of the three doubles matches. Bill Lettwich and Bob Kincaid played excellent tennis to win the deciding doubles match, 6-2, 6-4.

On May 6 Elon College set the Tiger racketeers back by a score of 7-1. This proved to be the strongest team on the Hampden-Sydney tennis schedule. Kirk prevented a shut-out by winning his match in three long sets. "Dynamite" Richardson was unable to play in the doubles because of a leg injury.

On the following afternoon the Tigers were defeated again by a 7-1 margin on the home courts. American University was the opponent. Late arrival of the boys from Washington made it necessary to limit the number of matches to eight. The absence of Captain Richardson from the line-up greatly weakened the home team. Whitman was the only Hampden-Sydney winner. In the outstanding individual match of the day, Kirk lost to May in three sets.

In the next match, on May 9, the Tigers easily defeated a team from the Norfolk Division of William and Mary and V. P. I. by a score of 5-2.

On May 12 the powerful Lynchburg College team came to the campus and handed the Tigers a 6-3 beating. The feature match was between the rival captains of the two teams, "Dynamite" Richardson of Hampden-Sydney and Fred West of Lynchburg. The Tiger captain won, handing West his only defeat of the season.

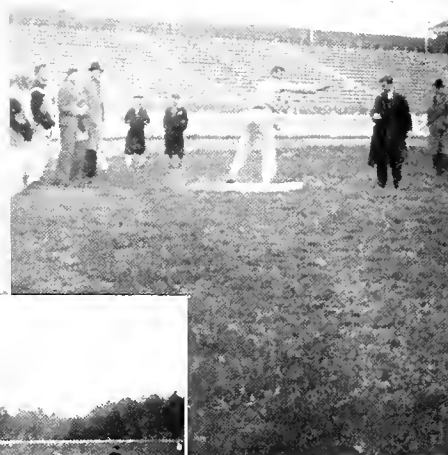

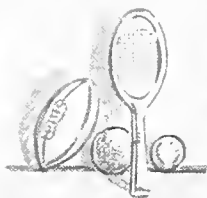

The final match of the season was played on May 14 against Emory and Henry. The Tigers won with little trouble, 5-1.

A 1936 fall tennis tournament was played principally in an attempt to discover material in the freshman class. Those reaching the quarter-finals were: Richardson, Lettwich, Kirk, Snidow, Baylor, Buyers, Mitchell, and Boyd.

Captain Whitman, Richardson, Lettwich, Kirk, Snidow, and Baylor were called upon to face the strenuous 1937 tennis schedule. The first match to be played resulted in a 6-3 defeat for the Tigers at the hands of the Lynchburg College netmen. The tables were turned, however, in the second match of the '37 season against the Medical College of Richmond on April 17th, which resulted in an easy victory for the Tiger netmen, 7-2. On April 22nd Richmond blanked our team, 9-0, and R.-M. overpowered them the next day, 7-2, but in Washington on April 24th they regained their true form in winning from American University, 7-2. Our match with St. Johns was rained out and as we go to press there are still a considerable number of matches to be played.

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE

This institution opened its doors on January 1, 1776, and is the only college in America from which the students entered the Revolutionary War in a body.

Among its charter trustees were James Madison, afterwards President of the United States, and Patrick Henry.

It stands high among the list of "small colleges" which have sent from their halls a remarkable number of leaders and successful men in every profession, in every walk of life. It has always adhered to the standards of high scholarship and gentlemanly conduct. It is definitely Christian in its beliefs and outlook. In its courses of study it meets modern requirements.

A TRIBUTE TO TWO FRIENDS WHO WILL NEVER FAIL YOU

--your Pipe and Tobacco

No matter what path you may follow after college, no matter what obstacles you may encounter on the way, at least two good friends will always be there to give you solace and comfort—your pipe and tobacco. Give your pipe the best chance to serve you—by "feeding" it the right tobacco—Edgeworth. Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va., Tobacconists since 1877.

of College Annuals

Experience

LYNCHBURG ENGRAVED ANNUALS ARE BUILT UPON YEARS OF EXPERIENCE
AS SPECIALISTS IN THE FIELD OF SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

IN successfully fulfilling the requirements of the modern College Annual Staff we have combined a comprehensive and systematic servicing program with that high standard of quality so essential in the production of fine yearbooks. Lynchburg engraved annuals are built by an organization specializing on school annuals exclusively, thereby assuring each staff of the personal and intelligent assistance so necessary in the planning and designing of a truly satisfactory book.

IN APPRECIATION

Among the many things which are necessary for the publishing of a truly successful annual, there are two that stand out foremost. They are the understanding interest and cooperation of students and faculty and the unselfish advice and aid of competent photographers, engravers, and printers. We have been exceedingly fortunate in having such invaluable support.

The editorial staff of the '37 KALEIDOSCOPE wishes to express its deep appreciation to the following for their kind cooperation in the publication of this book:

Messrs. W. A. Daniel, R. G. Benson, and Howard Henry of the Benson Printing Company; Mr. Leonard Glover of Lynchburg Engraving Company; and Messrs. M. F. Dunbar and W. A. Daniel, Jr., of Dunbar and Daniel Studio.

Also to our Staff, students, and all those who have contributed to the welfare of this volume we wish to sincerely thank for their help in recording the year 1936-'37 at Hampden-Sydney; and if in these pages there is some little picture, some incident, some saying, that will later bring back memories of their Alma Mater, we will be more than rewarded.

C. L. SNIDOW, JR.
Editor-in-Chief.

W. R. BLANDFORD,
Business Manager.
